Do You Need a Prevention Plan?

• OSHA's General Duty Clause: Violence is a Foreseeable Risk

- Failure to recognize and prevent workplace hazards
- Negligent hiring, retention, or supervision
- Negligent training

• Additional Benefits:

- Increased feelings of safety (SHRM, 2019)
- Heightened reporting confidence (SHRM, 2019)
- Higher levels of employee satisfaction (Aytac & Dursun, 2012)

19

Virtual Reality Training

VR training immerses users into a life-like, computer-generated environment via a VR headset or computer display, often with a 360° view.

20

21

Social Media Listening

Software which collects, analyzes, and flags public access online conversations about a specific brand, company, topic, keyword, etc.

56% of active shooters shared their intent (FBI, 2014)

4-5 Average number of red flags exhibited by active shooters (FBI, 2014)

22

Social Media Listening

23

Access Control Systems

Systems designed to restrict access to a particular building or worksite; often equipped to send an alert of unauthorized or potentially dangerous entries.

24

Weapons Detection Systems

Machine learning or AI-powered Software which collects, analyzes, and flags public access online conversations about a specific, company, topic, keyword, etc.

nsc

25

Video/Audio Analytics

Machine learning or AI-powered software which monitors, analyzes and manages video or audio data. Algorithms can be trained to identify a variety of objects, sounds, or actions.

26

27

Lone Worker Monitoring

Technology, oftentimes a mobile app or wearable device, which protects lone workers through real-time GPS tracking, fall detection, and two-way communication capabilities.

nsc

28

Panic/Duress Buttons

Wearables, mobile apps, or hardware which enables employees to discretely send SOS alerts in emergency situations.

29

30

Video Surveillance Systems

Includes the use of closed-circuit television (CCTV), public view monitors (PVMs), or body-worn cameras to surveil a building, area, worksite, etc.

57% Decrease in violent crime in parking lots (Welsh & Farrington, 2009)

23% Decrease in violent crime in public transit systems (Welsh & Farrington, 2009)

Adding Back the Human Element

• Technology should facilitate, not replace, other administrative controls:

- Zero-tolerance violence policy
- Clear and well-communicated reporting procedures
- Employee training, especially in recognizing and deescalating conflict
- Employee wellness benefits, EAPs
- Enabling two-way communication for employees
